Dear Dr. Lederberg,

Thank you for your note. I hope by now you are comfortably settled in New York and spared the frequent trips to the West Coast.

I am looking forward very much to the opening concert at Rockefeller on October 4, and I would very much enjoy meeting you there if you are planning to attend, and perhaps having a night-cap later.

I have recently been asked to do a full biography of Clara Thompson, but the task seems overwhelming to me at this moment.

Elsevier Press has begun negotiations with myself and Dr. Jaffe to do a series of volumes on biological psychiatry and I would like to begin with one on genetic aspects and relate misconceptions of genetics to unfortunate stereotyping. What do you think?

With all best wishes
Sincerely,

Maurice Green, M.D., P.C.
